The KONE Design Collection was awarded a 2009 GOOD DESIGN award for the KONE Design Signalization series. KONE is the only elevator and escalator company to have ever received a GOOD DESIGN award in 60 years.

GOOD DESIGN was founded in 1950. It is renowned as one of the most recognized design awards program in the world. Awards are given by The Chicago Athenaeum and The European Center for Architecture Art Design and Urban Studies to recognize the best new designs and design innovations for products and graphics which were made between 2007 and 2009.

Car Operating Panel offerings are also available in partial height.
Leaves are only available in full height.
